BEAUMONT AND BEYOND: PREPARING GLOBAL LEADERS

STRATEGIC PLAN ASPIRATION

At Beaumont School we are dedicated to educating women. We are here to accompany them on their amazing journeys to becoming fully the women they were created by God to be. Each person unique, each possessing abilities in mind, body, and heart that, when honed and tested, will help her create a more just and humane world. Beaumont women will change the world.

Beaumont School has a storied history of excellence in educating women who possess the values of the Ursuline Sisters. Rooted in that history, we hold before the Beaumont community these four priorities. With focused energy and resources around these priorities, we aspire to make Beaumont unrivaled not only in women's education but in preparing global leaders.

The world needs leaders. The world needs women ready to lead. The world needs Beaumont.

Ursuline Sisters of Cleveland, The Board of Directors, Administrative Team, Faculty and Staff commit ourselves to this Vision.

› PRIORITY 1

PREPARE young women to be agents of change and lifelong learners with St. Angela Merici as their model.

Following the bold example of St. Angela Merici, we will develop lasting intellectual skills, a moral compass, an inclusive community and a commitment to service that will allow young women to find their voices and grow in confidence to solve the world's urgent challenges.

BEAUMONT WILL:

- › Redefine the student learning experience using the blended model of personalized education, the International Baccalaureate and technology to support proven curricular and pedagogical approaches.
- › Develop a technology plan, which includes hardware, software and educational support, that advances the goal of forming young women to be self-driven, self-directed and curious lifelong learners.
- › Offer service opportunities that partner Beaumont students with Ursuline ministries that can become signature works of the Beaumont community engaged in changing the world.

› PRIORITY 2

ADVANCE Beaumont's Ursuline mission of transforming society one person at a time.

We will ensure the Ursuline mission of Beaumont School for the next generations of young women through a carefully crafted enrollment management plan and predictable/sustainable financial model.

BEAUMONT WILL:

- › Adopt a financial model that encompasses tuition, investment income, and philanthropy, and provides predictable and dependable sources of revenue necessary to fund operations, maintenance, projects and scholarship/financial aid.
- › Develop a 3-5-year strategic enrollment plan to support the financial model.

› PRIORITY 3

BUILD the Beaumont community by raising her visibility in the world and among her alumnae.

We will celebrate, proclaim and market the power of Ursuline education in the world by sharing the astonishing stories of Beaumont students and alumnae.

BEAUMONT WILL:

- › Define the characteristics of Ursuline education and proclaim the Ursuline values to students, families and alumnae.

- › Engage alumnae to (re)connect them to their Beaumont experience and increase their personal commitment to the success of Beaumont School through sharing their personal and professional resources.

- › Develop a mission advancement plan that focuses on broadening the base of donors and cultivating greater philanthropic support.

› PRIORITY 4

STEWARD Beaumont's Ursuline legacy through development of a campus facilities and infrastructure master plan.

With a Campus Master Plan, we will prepare for and prioritize the phased renovation or construction of those academic, athletic and student support projects that will enhance student experience, drive enrollment and define Beaumont's unique selling proposition among other schools.

BEAUMONT WILL:

- › Engage work on a Campus Facilities and Infrastructure Master Plan.
- › Solicit appropriate input from key stakeholder groups, including students, faculty, parents, alumnae, donors and the community.
