

SUMMER READING HONORS American Literature

WELCOME To Honors American Literature

Below are four literary works you are to read for your summer reading assignment. Directions for your paper in response to these readings follows. PLEASE print them out in color if possible. Do NOT wait until the last minute to write this.

- The Great Gatsby....F. Scott Fitzgerald
- The Catcher in the Rye....J.D.Salinger
- The Age of Miracles...Karen Thompson Walker

These three works capture dominant themes in American literature: a search for self combined with major conflicts that entail combating antagonistic forces that derive from internal and external origins.

Two are based in New York City while another could be any town or city in America.

The Catcher in the Rye_ Since his debut in 1951 as “the catcher in the rye”, Holden Caulfield, the novel’s alienated, mourning and cynical protagonist, narrates a few days in his sixteen-year-old life, following his expulsion from prep school. Holden is furious with somewhat normal teenage anger; however, the loss of his younger brother, Allie, to leukemia, has emotionally paralyzed him. This novel, which has survived many rounds of being banned, remains as one of the most significant and popular books with American youth. In addition, films and other books have been inspired by Salinger’s novel, including the now popular The Perks of Being a Wallflower.

The Great Gatsby_ This classic, set in 1920’s, explores the misconception that money can buy devotion, can guarantee eternal youth, can purchase an ideal. The “ideal” is found in Daisy Buchanan, a beautiful, selfish, rich Southern belle to whom Gatsby devotes his life. As narrated by Nick Caraway, Daisy’s cousin who is spending summer in New York City to work, the novel reveals Gatsby’s devotion is pure; however, Gatsby is blind to Daisy’s emptiness. He truly undergoes a religious quest but uses money to capture his “object” of devotion. This has become known as non-material materialism.

The Age of Miracles: Told from the point of view of the protagonist, Julia, who is on the verge of turning 12, this is another novel focused on the movement from innocence to experience. However, the framework is very different.

In this novel, the rotation of the Earth has begun to slow causing days and nights to grow longer and longer. All normal life has come to a halt. As days and nights become longer, people begin to grow sick and to act abnormally. Crops begin to fail, oceans rise, flooding homes; soon food and water are hoarded, just like when a major storm is coming. There is talk about the end of the world and even the possibility of moving to another planet. Julia is a quiet, observant girl with a major crush on a boy, Seth. As the ‘the slowing’ begins, Julia says she remembers feeling, “not fear but a thrill”...”a sudden sparkle amid the ordinary, the shimmer of the unexpected thing.” As the “slowing” continues, Julia realizes it is not temporary. Rather it is species-threatening as the changes to Earth’s gravity make people sick. Soon the widespread use of sunlamps and artificial heating during the longer and colder nights will create energy shortages and periodic blackouts. While the drastic change to life on the outside narrates a large part of the novel, Julia’s transition towards adulthood is as eventful as the earth’s gravity shifting. “Light unhooked from day, darkness unchained from night” could also describe the turmoil occurring within Julia. (some wording taken from Kaukutani, The New York Times Book Review)

Below are very important details related to writing this paper. READ THEM OVER VERY CAREFULLY before you begin and use as a checklist when you finish. I know there is much to go over, but it is all vital to helping you receive a strong grade on your first paper.

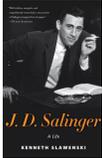

PART I BIOGRAPHY (20 pts)

Select ONE of the three authors.

Look for sophisticated information. Make it interesting. Connect it to the novel. Do not begin with: “_____ was born on “....

Do not give me the author’s resume (dates, who they married, etc. unless it connects to the novel). If you choose Fitzgerald then much of the history of his life did inspire his novel.

No use of author’s first name alone* EVER

Use of some primary sources and recent information (letters, interviews)

Use of good sources...shows effort and “digging/exploring”.

Not like a Wikipedia entry

Offers insight into the writer’s subject matter/connects to work analyzed

Most verbs in biography section will remain in PAST tense.

If choosing Fitzgerald or Salinger, do not end with, “Though this author is dead, his works live on forever”

Do NOT forget to vigorously provide in text citation.

3 paragraphs REQUIRED (no more and no less)

Each paragraph must be at least 8 sentences long.

PART II PROMPTS: (65 pts)

TWO PROMPTS: You MUST respond to prompt that falls assigned to the letter of your last name.

A-M

PROMPT 1: Using either The Age of Miracles OR The Catcher in the Rye, examine how the protagonists are displaced by forces beyond their control.

* Whichever novel you choose to write about, use one of the below as your FIRST SENTENCE, which is basically your thesis.

SUMMER READING HONORS American Literature

In The Age of Miracles, the protagonist attempts to hold on to the present, pushing away the threat of the future.

OR In The Catcher in the Rye, the protagonist remains affixed to the past, struggling to avoid moving forward into adulthood.

N-Z

PROMPT 2: Selecting either The Great Gatsby or The Catcher in the Rye, discuss how the protagonists' conflicts are amplified or enlarged by distinct settings

If you select Catcher, you MUST work from the fact that Holden's trauma is rooted in Allie's death.

If you select Gatsby, you MUST work from the premise that his love for Daisy is not normal and that Daisy is an empty vessel; thus, he his devotion is directed at a nothingness he will not allow himself to accept

USE the following AS FIRST SENTENCE FOR THIS PROMPT. Remember choose just one novel.

- In The Great Gatsby the settings of the West and East Egg, the Valley of Ashes and Nick's Midwest all grow in symbolism.

OR

- In The Catcher in the Rye, Holden's conflicts are amplified through Pencey Prep, the National Museum of History, Central Park, and Phoebe's school.

specific requirements below:

Your prompt response must be approximately 4-5 pages. There is no CONCLUSION required. 1.5 spacing 11 pt font

- You must use direct quotations for all analysis.. If you are stating, for example, that Holden is emotionally paralyzed, SHOW where this occurs in the text itself.
 - You MUST use some outside critical sources. Use Beaumont's database. Bloom infobase is excellent...go to student portal/database/Bloom user: beaumont pass: bluestreak
 You might need bluestreaks or remote when accessing from home for password

FOR EXAMPLE, “Holden finds support from his sister, Phoebe. (Phoebe is the context).

Only analyze the characters/novels. Do NOT relate to everyone in the world. For example, do not begin, “Everyone feels heartbroken when love is lost.” In fact, do not use “Everyone” or “Every” at all. Avoid cliches and sweeping statements.

Do NOT USE THE READER. Avoid sweeping, oversentimental wording. Do not use any psychology books as resources. Use literary critics.

 Skip only 2 spaces between the biography and the prompt. Provide titles for the separate parts of the paper. Thus, after you are finished with the biography, move directly to prompt, skipping only 2 spaces to move on to prompt 1 or Prompt 2.

STYLE, CITATION AND ALL THAT AWFUL STUFF:

- ❖ Use in text citation () after quotations. Remember the period comes after the (). These are grammatically referred to as in text or parenthetical citations.
- ❖ Any quotation beyond 4 lines...must be separated. Do Not use quotation marks for these. USE ONLY ONE SEPARATED QUOTATION. Long, separated quotations should always be kept to a minimum. You are not required to use any long or separated quotations.

SUMMER READING HONORS American Literature

USE PRESENT TENSE for verbs. Holden FEELS lost..not FELT. *Biography will be in past tense. WHEN analyzing literature, the concept of the eternal present is enforced. This is why we use present tense in literary analysis.

- ❖ Avoid the conditional tense (could, would)
 - ❖ Use context (who, what, when, where).
Use wording APPROPRIATE for a FORMAL paper. NO CONTRACTIONS
 - ❖ Do not use 'that' when referring to people/characters. Use 'whom' or 'who'
 - ❖ Italicize titles of novels and magazines, newspapers. Essays, short stories, poems, any written piece that is short, requires quotation marks.
 - ❖ No SLANG
 - ❖ VARY SENTENCE STRUCTURE. IF your sentences begin the same or are filled with "ands" REVISE.

USE STRONG AND SOPHISTICATED verbs. "IS" "DOES" "HAS" SHOULD remain very limited.

- ❖ WORDS YOU CANNOT USE:
 - ❖ When referring to people use who/who NOT THAT
 - ❖ any word with THING in it
 - ❖ you
 - ❖ get, got, go .went
 - ❖ mindset
 - ❖ issue
 - ❖ I think, I feel, you
 - ❖ any contractions
 - ❖ the reader
- ❖ Eliminate Have,Has or Had as Major Verbs

OTHER:

- * Do not define any literary terms like symbolism, etc. I know what they mean.
- ❖ Works cited and in text citations must match; make sure spacing is correct on Works Cited page and that alphabetizing is accurate.

PARAGRAPHS , FONT AND SPACING:

SUMMER READING HONORS American Literature

No new points at the end of a paragraph

NO PARAGRAPH should be short. It means you have not developed.
No Paragraph should be longer than $\frac{3}{4}$ of page

The spacing and font requirements are tailored for me; they are not MLA standard.

- ❖ 1.5 SPACES BETWEEN EVERY LINE..NO MORE/NO LESS
- ❖ 11 pt font
- ❖ Use Times Roman or Calibri font style
- ❖ Look at online sources for current citation rules or any other usage questions. DO NOT GUESS. Purdue Writing Lab is a very good source.

https://owl.purdue.edu/owl/research_and_citation/mla_style/mla_formatting_and_style_guide/mla_formatting_and_style_guide.html

WHEN analyzing the novels, you must include use of SYMBOLISM (It is abundant in all works) Need at least one outside critical source..like Bloom, for example.

ORGANIZE logically; do not shift focus within a paragraph. Do not repeat the same point over and over.

PROVIDE TRANSITIONS between paragraphs or whenever necessary for clarity. Look up lists of transitions. Do not use the same one over and over.

AGAIN:

With Catcher, work from the premise that Allie's death activates Holden's trauma and journey.

With Gatsby, do not depict Gatsby and Daisy's love as typical. Daisy is truly a religion for Gatsby. Make sure to specifically address to what EXACTLY he is devoted; WHAT does green light symbolize?
